ENTRANCE FEES
CAUSING KICKCentral High Refuses to Pay Them.

ACTION A BIG SURPRISE

Athletic Association Has Always Paid
Indoor Meet Charges for Members of Team.

The members of the Central High School track squad are much wrought up over the announcement that the athletic association will not pay the entry fees of the athletes who are to compete in the high school indoor meet at the Convention Hall, on February 24. This action of the association was made public to the boys this week through Captain Wallace and Manager Wurdeman, who, it is said, received their information from the faculty advisor at the school. As soon as the boys heard the statement some were in favor of refusing to compete, but the more conservative argued with them and suggested that they await developments and learn fully the reason why this stand has been taken before taking any steps themselves.

Always Paid Before.

Heretofore the entrance fees for most meets, for men who have shown that they could make a good showing in games, have been paid out of the treasury of the athletic association without hesitation, and it is unfair, according to the boys to make them pay except for good reasons. While the association has always put up the fees for the members of the team, it has not paid for the new men who have not shown that they were capable of making good. With only one week remaining in which to settle the dispute, the track men will probably appoint a committee to request that the order be countermanded. Unless this is done, the men will have to submit and come up with the necessary wherewithal if they want to enter the games.

MAJOR MILLER BETS
$10,000 HE WILL FLYAirship Being Built and in May He
Will Tackle His 300-Mile Journey Home.

NEW YORK, Feb. 14.—Major Miller's airship, in which he will undertake to sail from here to Franklin, Pa., has already been ordered from Leo Stevens, and it is now being built in a Ninth avenue loft. Its completion is promised by May 1, and under the contract it must have a speed of at least fourteen miles an hour.

Major Miller knows little or nothing of the art of an aeronaut, but he is spending $5,000 on his dirigible balloon and to learn to operate it in order to win a bet of $10,000.

Major Miller's $10,000 wager is that he will fly the distance from New York to Franklin—a little more than 200 miles—without accident, and with only such stops as are necessary to replenish the gasoline fuel for the engine of his airship. He can carry so little fuel that he will have to renew the supply nearly every hour. If all goes well on the voyage, therefore, it will take the major from two to three days to reach Franklin, allowing him time to sleep.

Major Miller's balloon will be of the type used by Santos-Dumont and Stearns with one of which Ray Knabshus made several flights in this city last summer.

SMATHERS GETS CUP
BY FURNISHING BOND

NEW YORK, Feb. 14.—E. E. Smathers, by depositing a $7,000 bond, has recovered possession of the gold cup won by Major Delmar. The case involving the custody of the trophy and the alleged "doping" of Lou Dillon may not be settled in the supreme court for a year or more.

MACKEY CLEANLY
WON HIS MATCHThrew Tyrrell Twice in an Hour.

FIRST CLASS EXHIBITION

Both Men Game and Skillful—Defeated
Man Didn't Take Advantage of Small Mat.

Score another for Rob Roy Mackey! The day of the young man in wrestling is evidently not at hand in wrestling, for the veteran last night demonstrated at Concordia Hall in the best match that has been seen in Washington in a long, long time that he was still better than Harvey Tyrrell, who is his junior by many years.

Mackey gained the first fall in twenty-five minutes by a full nelson, and the second in seventeen minutes by a combination arm and leg lock. That second fall was largely a surrender upon the part of Tyrrell in order to prevent having his arm broken, for if he had persisted in trying to bridge out the arm would surely have snapped. As it was, the endangered wing had not fully recovered by the time the hall was cleared.

Got Ottenberg's Money.

The victory over Tyrrell was a great triumph for Mackey in more ways than one, and thoroughly justifies his offer to meet any man in the business at 145 pounds. Before the bout he was violently affected by a rush of words to the effect that he was going to get Ottenberg's money, but it was no go. Mackey had an advantage in weight, in addition was stronger than he has been for the past five seasons. He worked manfully over Harvey, but made little impression until after twenty-one minutes in the first bout, when he got a crotch hold and began to bear Tyrrell's shoulders down. It was a game fight between them, and, incidentally, the most exciting situation on a local mat this winter. Tyrrell finally, by a mighty effort, broke away and saved himself until he was tricked into the full nelson without a chance to lock his rival's arms, and then he went down.

Tyrrell Was Game.

Tyrrell did his best to keep on his feet and time in the second bout, but Mackey bounced him on the floor and began swinging him around the mat. Hackenschmidt did Tom Jenkins. It was from one of these swings that he got Tyrrell's arm back before Tyrrell could recover his wind, and connected with the arm lock, which won the second fall and the money.

Tyrrell was to be congratulated upon his gameness and sportsmanship. But Mackey bounced him on the floor and began swinging him around the mat. Hackenschmidt did Tom Jenkins. It was from one of these swings that he got Tyrrell's arm back before Tyrrell could recover his wind, and connected with the arm lock, which won the second fall and the money.

Atlas Won Again.

In the main preliminary Young Atlas, Mackey's protégé, beat Cleve Beckett, in spite of Beckett's hanging to the edge of the mat. Atlas got a full nelson on Beckett, but couldn't turn him over. Instead, he began bearing down on the neck, which was slightly twisted, and the audience was unaware that anything special was taking place until Referee Pat O'Connor suddenly slapped Atlas and pronounced him the winner. It was then learned that Beckett's neck had been twisted into a curly cue and that if O'Connor hadn't butted in the visible supply of wrestlers would have been reduced by one. Considerable massage was necessary in order to enable the defeated to see before him once more instead of behind.

In the first preliminary Jack Spaulding took the place of Dixie Simpson, who appeared, and threw Young Simpson a youth of great willingness, but little experience.

Joe Grant, who will meet Joe Rusek at Concordia Hall on Friday night, was introduced by E. Jenkins, who did the introducing act instead of E. Lawrence Phillips, and made a speech telling how glad he was to get back in the game and assuring his admirers that he would be in better condition than he has ever been before. Blatie Leonard was timekeeper.

FOR BENCH SHOWKennel Club Announces
Over 600 Exhibitors.

MANY NOTED DOGS COMING

Ohio, Pennsylvania, New York, and Texas Will Be Represented at Local Show on February 27.

The first annual bench show of the District of Columbia Kennel Club, which opens at the Washington Light Infantry Armory on February 27, promises to exceed anything of its kind that has ever been held in the District.

The management has announced that the entry list runs well over the 600 mark and that half a hundred or more were rejected after the entries closed on Saturday night. At the shows which were held here in 1898 and 1899, the out-of-town dogs to be seen at the show were few and far between.

Mr. Gero, who is in charge of this department of the coming exhibition, stated this morning that besides a large entry from the District, a great number will be exhibited from all over the United States.

The western part of Ohio has probably the largest list, with Pennsylvania and New York close behind. There is also a big entry from the South, dog fanciers as far away as Texas having decided to bring their pets.

Dogs of Every Description.

Dogs of all kinds will be seen, Great Danes, poodles, fox terriers, russ, bull dogs, cocker spaniels, Boston terriers, St. Bernards, and other breeds too numerous to mention. Mr. Gero is at present busily engaged in the arduous task of classifying the different breeds, and states that he will give the complete list to the public before next week.

BRIGHTWOOD CLUB TO HOLD BANQUET

This evening at 8 o'clock the members of the Brightwood Driving Club will hold a banquet at the clubhouse in Brightwood.

The little fest will be a social affair only, for the benefit of the members and a few select friends, who will gather to celebrate the newly elected officers of the association. It is probable that the conversation will be on the success which has attended the club in past years, and any points which happen to have captured some two dozen or more handsome silver cups, which would put the winnings of any athlete to shame for number and value.

SIX CLUBS IN THE FIELD

Calvary, Sixth, Metropolitan Baptist,
Fifth, and Foundry Will Have Teams.

A meeting of the Sunday school baseball committee was held last night at the home of F. W. Bolognino, 1725 Fifteenth street northwest, with Mr. Bolognino acting as president.

At a meeting of the board last Friday several of last year's best teams announced their intentions of withdrawing and it was then understood by many that this meant the complete disbandment of the league. But a committee was appointed, consisting of representatives of the churches which still remained, and this committee met last night to discuss plans for the preservation of the organization. After discussing ways and means it was decided to put six teams in the field. This recommendation of the committee is equal to a final decision and there will be at least six clubs to play upon the Mt. Pleasant grounds.

Sign Lease for Grounds.

The president of the association has been requested to sign a lease for the grounds and preparations will be made immediately for rebuilding the stands and the laying out of the diamond, which has been torn up by the extension of Fourteenth street. It is considered by those interested that the clubs will be stronger than ever because there will be a greater number of men to pick from owing to the reduction of the number of teams.

The clubs sure of entering, are Calvary Methodist, Sixth Presbyterian, Metropolitan Baptist, Fifth Baptist, and Foundry Methodist. The sixth team is yet to be chosen, but there are several applications for the position. The league will be on a firm financial basis as promises of sufficient subscriptions have already been received. All the directors of last year's teams, even those not entering clubs, are said to be in favor of this movement to sustain the league. Another meeting will be held in the near future after the purpose of electing permanent officers, etc., and it is most likely that Mr. Bolognino, of Foundry, will be chosen president.

GIRL OF FOUR WORLD'S
STRENGTH CHAMPIONWeights But Thirty Pounds—Can Support
Twenty-five Pounds Weight on Outstretched Body.

ST. CHARLES, Mich., Feb. 14.—St. Charles has the strongest little girl of her age in the world. Her name is Matilda Gage, and she is four years and six months old.

The little wonder now weighs but thirty pounds, but she will take a five-pound dumbbell in each hand and hold them out at arms' length; she will put one up fifty times with her same hand without stopping except to change from one hand to the other—that is, each hand fifty times.

She will then put up an eight-pound dumbbell ten times with each hand, and will raise a ten-pound dumbbell from the floor.

Another stunt the little girl performs is to rest her head and feet upon two chairs and hold a twenty-five-pound weight in the center of her body.

The father, William Gage, was well known in Jackson ten years ago as "Bully Gage," the famous tight-rope walker.

It is his ambition to have his daughter become the strongest woman on earth, and he is now training her in infant weight championship of the world.

At the age of one year a one-pound dumbbell was placed in her hand, and now she will with ease lift a twenty-five-pound dumbbell from the floor.

MEETING WAS POSTPONED.

The annual meeting of the Washington Jockey Club, which was to have been held at the Arlington Hotel yesterday afternoon for the election of officers and the transaction of business pertaining to the spring meeting and other routine matters, had to be postponed until later, owing to the absence of President Howard, who is at present in New York.

BASEBALL.

Pitcher Ewing and Outfielder Odwell, of the Cincinnati, have sent in signed contracts.

Pitcher Charley Nichol's says he has done very little bowling this winter, thus varying his usual program.

It is not true that "Rube" Waddell crossed Boston off his list owing to the 11 o'clock law that prevails there.

Dick Padden is very anxious to secure Catcher Noonan from President Murphy, of the Chicago Cubs, so that he can place him at first base for his own team.

George Tebeau denies that he was a party to a conspiracy with Herrmann and Bruen to drive the American League out of the field and form a new club league.

Several of the Pacific slope clubs have tried in vain to make a deal for Roy Brashear, the Louisville second baseman. Tebeau thinks too well of him to let him go. Tebeau wants him to play first base next season.

The departure of "Bill" Clarke to go to Toledo leaves the New York champion, the Louisville second baseman, to play first base next season.

The party that accompanied Donlin to Albany last Thursday, when he was arrested, were Gilbert and Devlin, of the New Yorks; infielder Hartman, of the Montreal club, and Outfielder Shulte, of the Rochester team.

President Murphy, of the Chicago National League club, says he did not agree to allow Sebring to remain away a year, but did consent to excuse him, providing the condition of his wife were such that he could not leave her or bring her to Chicago. It seems that Sebring owes money to Garry Herrmann and also to Williamsport.

According to the Denver Republican, Second Baseman John Perrine has received a contract from the St. Louis Americans for but $55 per month. "The truth of the matter is," says the Republican, "that the St. Louis people have not the money to complete the purchase made last fall, nor have they enough to warrant the payment of good salaries to the players. Hence both Perrine and Hollister may revert to the Denver team."

BOXING.

The Broadway Athletic Club of Philadelphia will put on an all-star card tomorrow night, when Jack Williams, of Gray's Ferry, Pa., and Jack Clancy, of California, will clash for six rounds at catch weights. Bob Lang, of Chicago, meets Fred Blackburn, of Philadelphia, in the second star bout.

Young Erne, of Philadelphia, is apparently not satisfied with his showing with Jimmy Gardner, a few weeks ago in Philadelphia, and says he would like another match.

Tim Callahan, Philadelphia lightweight, will on Friday night meet Johnny Burdick in a twenty-round bout before the National Sporting Club, of Montreal, Can.

Battling Nelson does himself out as a time server in a coming fight with Terry McGovern. "McGovern's manager wants me to bet $4,000 to $10,000 the fight," said Nelson. "I will bet several 30-cent pieces that I will win. I will bet the floor before the six rounds are over, and I won't be there. Neither McGovern nor I will back up when we start the mill, and you may depend upon it."

If plans do not miscarry, the second annual intercollegiate wrestling tournament to be held in Madison Square Garden on March 3.

The Naval Academy has a good track team this year, and is arranging for meetings at Indianapolis with Lafayette and Haverford. A meeting with West Point is not so certain, but is hoped for.

Chicago is not the only Western college contemplating launching a navy. It is said that Minnesota and Michigan are to follow the example of Wisconsin and the Midway institution.

Robert G. Torrey, who captained two winning University of Pennsylvania football teams, was elected coach of this year's team last week.

Vanderbilt University has some prospect of being a football contestant in the East this year. The southern team has had games with the University of Michigan. Princeton is understood to be considering a date with Vanderbilt.

Out of twenty events, Washington athletes took seven firsts, four seconds, and one third at the Richmond meet on Saturday. Of these, Columbia Athletic Club scored four firsts and one third.

Tom Keane, the veteran Boston sprinter, now trainer at Oberlin College, and one of the rare winners of two Sheffield handbills, is in Boston on his midwinter vacation. He says he has a promising track team in prospect at Oberlin, and hopes to land first in the Ohio State Association, to which the college belongs.

Entries for the scrub basketball series at Harvard closed Saturday, but the number of teams and the names have not yet been determined, as the management has not yet divided the men into teams. The details of the series, with the schedule, will be arranged in a few days.

Cookey Rice, the star second baseman of Cornell, is not to play with the baseball team this year owing to his action in creating an insurrection against Coach Glen Warner last fall. Warner says he will have several men as good as Rice to take the latter's place.

That water polo is rapidly coming to the fore as an intercollegiate sport is evident. Already the reformers are busily engaged in introducing the European style of play in place of our own rule way.

Josh Crooks is to be full trainer at Columbia this season, succeeding Ernest Herberg. Josh was born and brought up at Chelsea with Johnny Mack, who has "landed" at Yale. He was a charter member of the old Sub team, but turned professional and went barnstorming on the cinder path with Mack. "Piper" Donovan, and Mike Murphy, now the U. S. trainer.

MISCELLANEOUS.

Yale and Princeton will play a team chess match of 10 men on a side in New York, March 3.

New York chess enthusiasts are confident that the year will produce a match for the chess championship of the world between Lasker and Tarrasch. Lasker is now a New Yorker and Tarrasch is a practicing physician in Nuremberg, Germany, and only plays chess during vacation. The only hitch is to prevail on Tarrasch to either come over or to allow a sufficient instrument for Lasker to go to Nuremberg.

The popularity of ocean yacht races has extended to the Pacific. Under the auspices of the Hawaii Yacht Club, a race will be given from San Francisco to Honolulu, to start on Saturday, May 6. This time is selected, for there will be a bright moon, and favorable weather conditions. The race will be 2,097 nautical miles from San Francisco to Hawaii, with no ports of call on the way.

WOOD ALCOHOL FOUND IN COMMUNION WINE

New York Health Commissioner Finds it a Concoction of Poison, Analine Dye, and Cider.

NEW YORK, Feb. 14.—Health Commissioner Darlington will begin at once ordering arrests for adulteration of food and drinks sold in New York. One of the cases will be brought against a concern from which a sample was bought of communion wine, which upon analysis proved to be a combination of wood alcohol, analine dye, and a poor quality of cider.

Many of the arrests will be of sellers of adulterated syrups such as are used in soda water.

"One of the most general forms of adulteration," says Dr. Darlington, "is the use of syrups, many of which have been found to be nothing but chemical products. As to the communion wine the which was sold as a superior article, I understand that it was purchased in the regular way at a large establishment and was sold as a superior article of food and drink. In the case of the adulteration of drugs, we will wait until the bill is amended by the Legislature, a bill for that purpose having been already introduced.

Witnesses Feared Fortune Teller "Spell," So Court Held Her Imprisoned During Her Trial.

EASTON, Pa., Feb. 14.—Mrs. Clotilda Lossingltner, a reputed fortune teller, who it was alleged, had bewitched Herman Rausch out of $2,000, declares she gave the money to the woman on the latter's claim that she would receive an inheritance from Austria.

Mrs. Rausch and her husband protested against staying in the room when the defendant was brought in at the hearing. They said she had an "evil eye" and that she had bewitched them. They threatened to run from the building, but were prevented.

They would not agree even to have the fortune teller in the adjoining room, so finally the hearing went on with the defendant remaining in her cell. It developed that Mrs. Lossingltner was receiving letters from Austria and taking money from them.

She was discharged over the embassies charge, but immediately arrested on the charge of fortune telling.

NEW YORK, Feb. 14.—Organized baseball showed its hand when the National Commission, the supreme court of the game, put every contract jumper on the permanent blacklist. It will appear as a hard and heartless measure to many, but the National Agreement, which is the bulwark of baseball, must be upheld inviolate or else there would be chaos.
